

The software architecture supports

- real-time tasks for motor control (gathering sensor values and pilot commands, sensor fusion, automatic control, driving motors using PWM (pulse width modulation, ...) but also
- non-real-time tasks (maintenance and test, handling external events, pilot commands, ...).

1 - 37

High-Level Software View

Block diagram of the stabilization system: